On Tuesday, February 27, 2024, the 7th Annual Capital Link Cyprus Shipping Forum will take place, at Columbia Plaza, in Limassol.

After the great success of the international Maritime Conference "Maritime Cyprus 2023", with the presence of prominent figures from the world of shipping and the participation of high-ranking executives of two of the leading charterers in the field, Cargill and Louis Dreyfus, the Capital Conference Link presents this year an extremely interesting agenda that includes panels and discussions with prestigious speakers and moderators prominent personalities of the maritime world.

Having now established itself as a permanent meeting point for the global maritime community, this year's Conference with a topical and wide-ranging theme will provide a comprehensive overview of the critical developments, contemporary challenges and prospects of the maritime industry worldwide. With a series of distinguished speakers, the Conference this year will host more than ship owners, such as Petros Pappas (Star Bulk), Semiramis Paleou (Diana Shipping), Andreas Hatzigiannis (Cyprus Sea Lines), Giorgos Mouskas (Olympia Ocean Carriers) and Polys V. Chatzioannou (Safe Bulk), and the heads of four major charterers with a leading position in global shipping.

More specifically, representatives of Viterra Chartering BV, Olam International, Mercuria and EP Resources AG, will participate in a panel on "Charterers' Perspective – Navigating Through Industry Transformation”, to discuss and develop from their own point of view the market conditions and the emerging situation in the face of current geopolitical and economic developments, upheavals in global trade routes and supply chains, and to share their knowledge and views on the impact of upcoming environmental regulations, new technologies and alternative fuels for coalification of shipping. Their participation will give a particularly important perspective to the conference audience, as they are the industry that controls cargo and international trade and their opinion is considered to be of great importance.

The Conference is under the auspices of the Republic of Cyprus and the Deputy Ministry of Shipping with the Main Sponsor being the Cyprus Shipowners' Union. With a timeless presence and qualitative dynamics in the Cypriot maritime industry, the Cypriot Shipowners' Association contributes significantly to the further strengthening of the Cypriot registry and the highlighting of the quality characteristics of the Cypriot flag, which has emerged as a dominant and reliable choice of high quality standards and strong performances among leading registries worldwide, ranking 8th worldwide in the updated Paris MoU White List.
