

Bahrain's civil defence steps in to extinguish flames following an Iranian air attack on Minal Salman port.

Photo: Bahrain Interior Ministry via X

Gary Dixon

TradeWinds correspondent | London

Published 30 March 2026, 10:14

Bahrain has banned ship crew movement at night following a series of Iranian attacks on its port infrastructure.

The interior ministry announced a curfew for all seafarers between the hours of 6pm and 4am local time due to measures taken to protect coastal areas.

Iran's "blatant" attacks, involving missiles and unmanned aerial vehicles, pose a significant risk to the safety of citizens and residents, the ministry said on Sunday.

SPONSORED CONTENT | BLUE WHALES, BLUE SKIES

